

Racebred Components Splitter Kits are crafted to enhance front-end stability, grip, and minimize lift, perfect for weekend racers. Prioritizing strength, durability, and cost efficiency, these kits provide a ...

The front splitter was designed for owners looking to combat front end lift, ...

The Verus Engineering Front Splitter increases front end downforce and reduces drag in a simple to bolt-on package. The unit is made from a hard, durable, stiff plastic that does not bend below the car ...

The Composite Adjustable Front Splitter was designed for BRZ, FRS, and GT86 owners looking for the ability to extend their splitter forward from the front of the bumper between 2 and 5 inches.

The front splitter was designed for owners looking to combat front end lift, increasing traction at high speeds. The two-piece design reduces costs through shipping savings and allows easier ...

Upgrade your Toyota FRS, 86, and GR86 with our chassis-mounted splitter kit, designed to increase stability, grip, and reduce lift. Order today!

Once the splitter is on the car, we can make final adjustments for the air dam before fully tightening it down. Below is what the splitter should look like before getting installed on car.

Racebred Components Splitter Kits are designed to help increase front-end stability and grip, while reducing lift. Developed with the weekend racer in mind, our splitter kits key features are strength, ...

Web: <https://cgaroofing.co.za>